Tuesday April 24th

Dear Sir,

3-40-103

This rather short letter is sent to congratulate you for your very brave and determined stand in the bid you have made for your country's independence.

I have informed President Bush of my distress in that I deplore his weakness at not giving you official public recognition.

You have the prayers and good wishes of all true freedom loving peoples. I trust many millions have and will continue to show their support for your courageous stand and that of your brave countrymen.

God will surely bless you as you continue to stand up for your rights as a free people.

All good wishes for the supreme happiness of all the Balts.
