To the Honorable President of the Republic of Lithuania

Dear President Vytautas Landsbergis:

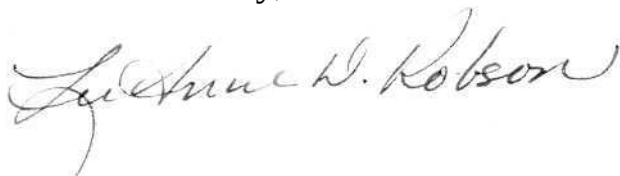

Early this morning after reading the New York Times and my local paper, the Pittsburgh Post-Gazette, I decided that rather than wait for our U.S. Government to take needed helpful action, I'd send you a $ 100.00 check. Hopefully, you can cash it somewhere in Europe, as Mellon Bank is known worldwide and my account is good.

If there is anything else someone such as myself, please let me know soon. I used to give to candidates for public office here in the U.S.A., but no longer of late because of all the corruption here and in Washington.

People that I know here are hoping that your country will lead the way out of the Soviet morass. I truly believe you and your countrymen have taken the correct approach. You don't do business with thieves and bullies.

Free people must come to your courageous stand, hopefully sooner rather than later.

Sincerely,
